

Logistics Manager – Kinshasa; Democratic Republic of Congo

£26,475- £29,547 per annum, plus an additional per diem of $12,000 per annum

MAG is a humanitarian organisation, working in conflict and former conflict zones to reduce the devastating effects of armed violence and the remnants of conflict for the benefit of local communities. We release land back to the local population, thereby enabling recovery and assisting further development and we tackle poverty by training and employing local staff. We take a community focused approach to our work, maximizing the benefits of our work for local families and workers. MAG is seeking a Logistics Manager to support its programme in DRC.

MAG has been working in DRC since 2004 and following a period of significant expansion, it is now one of MAG's largest programmes. With over 200 national staff, approximately 30 international staff and 17 teams operating across the country, the Logistics Manager provides essential support to staff and the programme to achieve their mission.

Reporting to the Country Director, the Logistics Manager will plan, coordinate and monitor equipment purchases and deployments, build the capacity of national logistics staff and develop, implement and maintain effective control systems for the extensive resources used by the programme. The postholder will also contribute to logistical planning and to the procurement components of funding proposals as well as ensuring accurate and timely reporting and compliance with MAG & donor procedures.

The successful candidate should have previous experience in working in a similar role, with experience in reporting, implementing and managing control systems and capacity building national staff. You will also need previous experience of working in a developing country, preferably within the region and an understanding of the constraints & challenges this imposes.

This position is based in Kinshasa but will require frequent travel to MAG bases across DRC. Due to the location, this position requires a fluent French and English speaker.

Benefits

Logistics Managers are rewarded with generous benefits, both financial and non-financial. The salary for this position is £26,475 - £29,547 per annum, plus an additional $12,000 per diem pa.

Other benefits include 6 weeks annual leave per year and an additional 2 weeks "Breather Breaks" per year. MAG also provides 3 international leave flights per annum, cover for medical costs, accommodation in-country & comprehensive insurance.
